DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 1, drawn to a composition comprising an aqueous extract of oak bark , classified in class 424, subclass 775 for example.
- II. Claims 2-4, drawn to a composition comprising potassium, zinc, calcium, rubidium, sulfur and a carrier which is not identical to an aqueous extract of bark, classified in class 424 , subclass 610 for example.
- III. Claims 5 - 9, drawn to a method for treating cancerous skin lesions with an aqueous extract of oak bark, classified in class 424 , subclass 614 for example.
- IV. Claims 10-13 and 17 drawn to a method for treating psoriasis by use of an aqueous extract of oak bark, classified in class 424, subclass 725 for example.

- V. Claims 14-16 , drawn to a method for treating impetigo with an aqueous extract of oak bark, classified in class 424, subclass 405 for example.
- VI. Claims 18-21, drawn to a method for treating gangrene with an aqueous extract of oak bark, classified in class 424, subclass 404 for example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP ' 806.04, MPEP ' 808.01). In the instant case, as evidenced by the claims themselves, the composition of Group II is not the same composition as the composition of Group I. An aqueous extract of bark contains many pharmaceutically active ingredients other than those listed in claim 2. For example, the extract contains chromium which has been known in the art to regulate blood glucose levels. Thus, because the compositions contain differing constituents, administration of each respective composition may result in different clinical outcomes.

Inventions I-II and III-V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP ' 806.05(h)). In the instant case all of the instantly claimed methods (which are patentably distinct from each other) can be carried out with materially different products than those recited in the instant claims.

For example, plants such as myrrh and ginseng have been used in the art for treating gangrene. Compounds such as tetracyclinotrile and benzopyrone have been known for treating cancerous lesions of the skin. Many plant extracts have been known to have a beneficial effect toward psoriasis such as corn and rose extracts. And further, there are a myriad of wound-healing compositions known in the art. Monoxodil for example is a very well-known composition which accelerates wound healing.

Thus, the search for each of the above inventions is not co-extensive particularly with regard to the literature search. Further, a reference which would anticipate the invention of one group would not necessarily anticipate or even make obvious another group.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for each Group is not required for the others, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1654

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(l).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

The Examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

Art Unit: 1654

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
